A feature of the first night was the presentation of the "Rube's Dance" by the boys of the Grex club, which recently made such a decided hit in Loomer opera house at the two days minstrel engagement by the club. The dancers were liberally applauded and were forced to respond to an encore.

After the various booths had been liberally patronized and the crowd became thoroughly enthused over the novelties which the ladies had provided, dancing came in for attention and was enjoyed for the remainder of the evening.
